EXAMINER'S COMMENT

The examiner notes with appreciation the applicant's explanation of surface roughness terminology. It is noted however that the unit of S, which was the cause of the original rejection under 25 USC 112, was not explained. The examiner accepts that S is a term of art in describing surface roughness as evidenced by the cited reference to JIS B 0601 (1994) Technical Data sheet. S is defined as the mean spacing of local peaks.
